BAYARD BOWS TO BISMARCK

HE AGREES TO RESUME THE SAMOAN CONFERENCE IN BERLIN.

He Humbly Suggests that, Pending the Decision of the Conference, Germany Sus-pend Belligerent Action Against Samoa-The Official Minutes of the Last Conference Show that England is in League with Germany Against the United States,

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 .- The "protocols" tofficial minutes) of the conferences on Samoan affairs, held in this city in 1887, together with a iditional correspondence on the subject, were laid before Congress this afternoon. In his letter of transmittal President Cleveland says the Governments of Germany and Great Britain have consented to their publication. The most important enclosure is the memo-randum of instructions of Prince Bismarck to the German Minister at Washington, read by the latter to the Secretary of State on Feb. 4.

It is as follows:
"The present situation in Samoa regarding the interests of the three treaty powers rendors it necessary to renew the attempt to bring the future of these islands to an understanding. The position of the three treaty powers in the civilized world makes it their duty to stop the bloody combat, accompanied by barbarous customs of those not numerous tribes, for whose welfare, according to the judgment of the civilized world, it is a duty of the treaty framers to provide.

"Prince Bismarck, in consequence, considers it a duty of the participating Governments to put an end, by the agreement of the trenty powers, to the troubles which have originated in Samoa, and by restitution of peace among the Samoans themselves, make an end of future bloodshed and the horrors of a civil war conducted with barbarous cruelty among the natives. The best remedy seems to be a resumption of the consultation which took place between the representatives of Germany. England, and the United States in the year 1887 at Washington, and at that time adjourned

Instruction and the chief states in the year 1887 at Washington, and at that time adjourned without any possibility of the representatives coming to any agreement. In consequence I have been requested by Prince Bismarck to propose to you to resume with Germany and the British Government the consultation regarding the Samoan question.

"The last conference took place at Washington. According to the equal rights of the place for the negotiations should change in regular turn. Based upon this opinion I am directed to invite the Government of the United States to a conference regarding Samoa, to take place at Berlin, and a similar invitation has been sent to the British Government.

"I am also directed to declare that any supposition that Germany would not feel satisfied with a neutral position in the Samoan Islands is unfoueded, as we have already declared in the last conference (of 1887), it is neither our intention to put in question the independence of the island group, nor the equal rights of the treaty powers. We simply desire to create a condition which offers permanent security for bringing to an end bloodshed and decapitation, and which grants permanent safety to the commercial interests of the three treaty powers in Samoa."

condition which offers permanent security for bringing to an end bloodshed and decapitation, and which grants permanent safety to the commercial interests of the three treaty powers in Samoa."

On Feb. 5. Secretary Bayard wrote to Count Arce Valley in part as follows:

"On behalf of the United States Government, the President instructs me to express his acceptance of the proposal of the Government of Gormany to resume the consultation held in this city between the representatives of the United States. Germany, and Great Britain, which was suspended on July 26, 1887—such consultation to be renewed, as it was undertaken. for the purpose of establishing peace and an orderly stable Government on the Samoan Islands on the basis of their recognized independence and the equal rights of the three treaty powers. As the assurance of Prince Bismarck that the pacification of the Samoan group and the occupation of a neutral position are his only objects, is as frankly accepted by the United States as it is tendered by Germany, it is suggested, in furtherance of the desired result of the conference, that instructions to suspend belligerent action and await the action of such conference should at once be telegraphed to their respective officers in Samoa by the United States as it is tendered by Germany, it is suggested, in furtherance of the desired result of the conference should at once be telegraphed to their respective officers in Samoa by the United States as it is tendered by Germany, it is suggested with the objects of any of the three powers. It is hoped, therefore, that orders of the nature indicated will be forwarded to Samoa without delay. The announcement of the conference between the treaty powers, it is confidently expected, will at once cause a cessation of hostilities among the unitives, and their speedy election of a King would certainly be a long step toward harmony. Except as the conditions may be changed by a fair election of a King by the natives, it is deemed essential that affairs in Samoa should remain must be appointed as adviser to the King and to act as the mandatory of the three treaty powers. He also suggested a renewal of the principle of absolute equality of the three powers on the islands.

Secretary Bayard suggested a scheme of constitutional government for Samoa, with native Legislature, securing its independence and autonomy, including an acknowledgment of Malietoa as King and Tamasese as Vice-King.

The English Government, through Sir Lionel West, suggested an agreement among the treaty powers that one of them should, as the mandatory of the other two, act as adviser of the Samoan Government, and, injview of the preparence of Germany have the first term of five years. England agrees with Germany in acknowledging the necessity for an election of a new King. All the representatives proposed the organization of a Land Court, or Commission, to settle the question of titles. No discussion occurred at this emborance.

At the secondimecting Mr. Bayard said that, while it had been agreed that a native Government should be established and assisted to maintain itself, the powers were not agreed on details. Great Firtian and Germany proposed that there should be only a King and a Council of chies. The United States suggested a King and Council of chiefs, and allegislative Assembly composed of representatives elected by the people of the islands.

Mr. Bayard proposed to continue King Malletoa in office, but Mr. West and Mr. Yon Alvensieben united in opposition to this. The lister also inquired whether the newly elected king should not be approved by the powers, to which Mr. Bayard replied in the negative, insisting that there must be a free election.

Von Alvensieben then read a formal statement of the position of his Government, in which he says there is only one course—to place one foreign officer at the head of the administration, and to invest him with sufficient. That Germany was the power having the largest Interest was questioned by nobody.

Mr. Bayard said it seemed to him that that reasoning forgot e islands.

The fifth protocol is made up of a centinuation of the discussion upon the Legislature and land questions. The day's proceedings closed by a statement from Mr. Bayard that he would undertake to prove that the German plan would result in an inequality which would grow larger. The British representative did not see it.

A Bayard read a long statement in regard to the lander of the establishment of poace and extilential in Signoa, with the cooperative should be the covernance of the United states. ment, based on mercantile interests, and all experience has shown what must necessarily result from such an attempt, and that under it the defeat of the objects we have all distinctly proposed is certain. I do not see why we should not recognize at the outset and encourage in Samon a spirit of self-governing freedom and self-respect. Germany and the United States have heretolore given strong indication of their desire for this by their prompt disavowal of the arbitrary and unauthorized nets of their respective Consuls (Steubel and Greenebaum). And it is noticeable that the conduct of forsigners has been the cause of more disorder and discentent in Samoa than any spontateous action of the natives, who, whenever they have acted improperty and immerally, would appear to have done so upon the instigation of some foreign agent. We cannot, therefore, condemn native self-government in advance, for it has not been tried, and a plan centaining such an element is entitled to favorable consideration and to be fairly tested, would it not, therefore, be well for us to adjourn this conference until the autumn, and thus give time to the Ministers of Germany and Great Britain to submit these protocols to their respective Governments, in onier that instructions may be received by them of a more delinite character, by aid of which we may be enabled to come to an agreement?"

The conference was adjourned in accordance with Mr. Bayard's suggestion.

A. S. Gookin, cashler of the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Company, did not appear at his desk in the offices at 71 Drondway last Tuesday, and will not appear at it again. An examination of his accounts showed that there was a defleiency. His bondsmen were notified, and the public heard nothing of it until THE EVENING SUN announced it yesterday.

A Manhattan director said that Gookin had probably been taking money for only two or three days before his detection, but if that is so he plunged when he did it. No one would say officially what the amount of the shortage was. In fact, Vice-President Gallaway would not mention an approximate figure, and so with the other directors. They said that the Gookin is a middle-aged man, and had been with the Manhattan Company fifteen years. He boarded at 491 West Twenty-second street up to last fall, with his wife and two children, and lodged at 448 in the same street. His father-in-law, Dr. Warner S. Cleveland, formerly of Malone, N. Y., also had an office at 491, and lived there up to the time of his death. No one at the above address had heard last night that Gookin was in any trouble, and all supposed that he was living with his family at Nyack.

A man in a hurry left at the business office of The Sun last night a card inscribed "Allen S. Gookin, Cashler and Paymaster, Manhattan Railway Company," and said he was Gookin, and wished to have it stated that he had called and was not in Canada.

The Case Against Dr. Reynolds.

Patrick Brennan, a gardener, was examined before Judge Lawrence in the Court of Oyer and Ter miner yesterday in the trial of Dr. Reynolds, charged with making false claims for insurance against the London Assurance Computer. Bremain testified that he removed a good deal of property from the Doctor's Flushing house in Jesk, including about 600 books that he packed in trunks. He testified that the roams were cleared of nearly all property shortly before the fire.

A farm hand, Chaires turnier, who had been employed on Dr. Reynolds a place at Flushing, swore that a lot of tables, books, and bookcases had been removed from the house after he went there in January, 1856. There were painters working in the bouse at the time. Artist J. Il. Davidson identified four pictures which he had painted and given to the Bootor in payment for professional services, and which, it is alleged, were claimed to have been lost in the fire. The case will go on next Monday. with making false claims for insurance against the Lon
